

Kirton McConkie Shareholder Earns Estate Planning Accreditation

(February 11, 2014) Geoff Germane, a Tax and Estate Planning Shareholder at Kirton McConkie, was recently certified as an Accredited Estate Planner[®] with the National Association of Estate Planners and Councils and as an Estate Planning Law Specialist with the Estate Law Specialist Board.

To become board-certified an attorney must pass a comprehensive exam, receive recommendations from five colleagues, practice at least one-third on estate planning for a minimum of five years and have a least 36 continuing legal education credits within the last three years.

The Accredited Estate Planner designation is the only graduate level multi-disciplinary accreditation emphasizing law, accounting, insurance, financial planning and trust services.

Kirton McConkie (www.kmclaw.com), a 130-lawyer full-service firm, provides corporate, tax and estate planning, real estate, litigation, and arbitration/mediation legal service to commercial clients.
