Litigation

George Moore is a member of the firm's Litigation section. Before joining Kirton McConkie, George served as a law clerk to the Honorable Gregory Moeller of the Idaho Supreme Court. During law school, he completed internships with the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit and the Idaho Court of Appeals.

Prior to his legal career, George worked at Anheuser-Busch in its wholesaler development and sales divisions. In these roles, he oversaw wholesaler compliance with the company's equity agreement, reviewed proposed wholesaler acquisitions, and implemented route-to-market strategies for new products in 19 states.
